

About the Teacher

Gail Boushey is an experienced teacher who is shown teaching a first-grade class at Sunrise Elementary School. She will be teaching these students for their first and second grades in a “looping” program. This allows her to build strong relationships with her students and help them progress in their reading skills over a two-year period.

Gail has been actively involved in the comprehensive use of interpersonal, environmental curriculum and instructional strategies to increase student learning and achievement.

She is well recognized for her expertise in reading instruction and is a leader in state and national professional development and state standards and assessment experiences.
