

Objectives

The objectives of this guided reading and early writing lesson are as follows:

To teach a first-grade lesson which would include the following skills components:

- Expand comprehension by questioning ideas and information.
- Model the following comprehension strategies: checking for understanding, crosschecking, inferring, and synthesizing.
- Model fluent reading, using appropriate phrasing, pacing and pausing.
- Model the process of selecting a writing plan, choosing words, and writing sentences to begin an original story.
- Brainstorm possible story topics, choose a topic and include relevant details.
- Write in a variety of forms, including narratives and recounts.

To demonstrate strategies for involving and engaging all students.
